

Wage Raise of 25 Per Cent for Miners is Recommended

By the Coal Commission—Majority Report Sent to President Yesterday—Six Hour Day Rejected

RALPH COUCH.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, March 12—Approximately $300,000,000 will be added yearly to the cost of the nation's coal bill, according to coal operators who claim to know the contents of the majority report of the national commission forwarded to the president yesterday.

This increase would be paid by the public in higher coal prices or increased charges of the utility companies and other large consumers of bituminous coal.

According to the operators the coal commission recommends an increase of eleven per cent in the wages of miners over the fourteen per cent increase recommended by former Fuel Administrator Garfield at the close of the nation-wide fuel strike in December. This would necessitate adding fifty to sixty cents per ton to the price of bituminous coal at the mines, operators say. The report of the majority of the commission is expected to be made public today at the White House. It provides—

John P. White, labor member of the commission, is planning to forward a minority report to the White House recommending a wage increase of approximately eighteen per cent over the fourteen per cent recommended by Garfield.

A 25 per cent increase in the wages the miners were receiving when they struck, this being 11 per cent in addition to the 14 per cent advance given the miners when they resumed work.

An eight hour day, as at present, instead of the six hour day demanded by the miners.

An immediate increase in the maximum government fixed price of coal amounting in some fields to 70c a ton.

Removal of all government restrictions of the price of coal and of all government regulation of distribution beginning with the new coal year this spring.

This disagreement of the commission may plunge the entire coal controversy back into the chaos it was in when the commission was named, it was said.

Russia Has No Food-Stuffs Says Italian Engineer

And Could Not Export Any If Peace Is Made Because of Lack of Transportation Facilities

CAMILLO CIANFERRO.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, March 12—Russia is not in a position to export extensive supplies of foodstuffs or raw material even if she had them, Manel Forte, Italian engineer, declared when he arrived here today after a stay of two years in Russia.

Forte was in charge of the government's electrical work under the czar, and later was a technician for the soviet government. He painted a black picture of Russia under the communists.

The only stocks of wheat that he knows of in Russia are in the Volga river valley. "If the allied plans for trade with Russia were worked out I doubt if any stock would be available because of almost complete lack of transportation."

Forte described the life in Russia as largely a struggle to obtain food. The country might as well be run without any government at all, for the people obey only those decrees of Moscow that appeal to them.

"Russia has passed through a frightful crisis. Nicholas Lenin aims at reorganization of the country for the peoples' good, but has not been successful. Peasants will not cultivate the land. They have had a taste of life by looting, and like it. Now they will not do otherwise. Men have abandoned their work. Factories, except those controlled by the government, are deserted. Railroad lines are rusting for lack of locomotives. The people generally appear greatly depressed."

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 12—Paul King, manager of the campaign to elect Truman Newberry to the United States senate, today attempted to resume his testimony in the Michigan election fraud trial, but collapsed on the witness stand after few minutes examination.

King left his bed against the advice of his physician. He suffered a nervous breakdown Tuesday following his direct examination. Court adjourned until Saturday morning. Physicians said they did not believe King would be able to testify within three months as they said he suffered a complete physical and nervous breakdown.

125 Coal Operators and Union Officials Indicted

For Violations of the Lever Act and the Fuel Control Act and Defrauding the Government
(By United Press)

Indianapolis, March 12—Capiases for the arrest of 125 indicted coal mine operators and workers were scattered throughout the central competitive field today.

Many arrests were expected. Two-thirds of those indicted late yesterday by the federal grand jury are operators. The remainder are mine union officials and workers. The men are from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, western Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Tennessee, Alabama and West Virginia.

They are charged with violation of the Lever act, the fuel control act and conspiring to defraud the government in purchase of coal during the war.

The investigation began following the last coal strike and extended into sixteen states. It has been in progress three months. Garfield, union officials, large coal mine operators and many others were quizzed by the grand jury. Dan Simms, special assistant United States district attorney, directed the investigation.

Mueller Gave Money As "Gift of Love"

Is the Contention of the Defense in the Shepley Extortion Case
(United Press)

St. Paul, March 12—Following a hasty conference with her attorney, Mrs. Laura A. Shepley today sprung a surprise in the closing moments of her defense of Wm. Mueller's suit for $22,000 which he charges she extorted.

After more love letters were read, Mrs. Shepley's attorney recalled Mueller in and forced from him an admission that he had secured a statement for himself and Mrs. Shepley on a trip from St. Paul to Chicago. Mueller has based his charges on that Mrs. Shepley posed as a secret service agent. Mrs. Shepley has been keen to show that Mueller loved her and that money was given to her as a "gift of love." She charged he tried to induce her to leave her family and husband even after he knew she was married. The taking of testimony was ended today. Arguments probably will not be heard until March 20. Mueller and his attorney left for Chicago.

East Indian Who Is Puzzling Scientists By Being Buried Alive for Eight Days

Wildhva Bahu, an East Indian born thirty years ago in Bombay, is causing a sensation in Germany by permitting himself to be buried alive for periods as long as eight days. Doubling himself up so as to occupy the smallest possible space, Bahu is wrapped in burlap and buried several feet underground, where he remains without food, water or air. He says he has spent practically all his life practicing this amazing stunt. This photograph shows the contortionist being buried alive while several scientists record the circumstances.

Lodge Presents New Compromise Reservation Art. X

Says He Would Not Feel Justified in Insisting on Treaty Defeat Because of Wording of the Compromise

L. C. MARTIN.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 12—Senator Lodge today presented in the senate a compromise reservation to Article X of the league of nations covenant.

The compromise is a modification of the Watson-Simmons proposal which itself was a modification of the original Lodge reservation. The compromise reads—

"The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or the political independence of any other nation by the employment of its military and naval forces, its resources or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in any way in a controversy between nations, either members of the league or not, under the provision of Article X or to employ its military or naval force to any articles of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case the congress, which under the constitution, has the sole power to declare war or to authorize the use of military and naval force, shall in the exercise of such liberty of action, by act or joint resolution, so provide."

In offering the proposal Lodge said: "I have many times repeated to the senate that I would not feel justified in insisting on the defeat of the treaty on the mere question of a word. If I thought what I have offered affected in any way the principle of the substance of the original reservation, I not only would not have offered it, but would vote against ratification of the treaty."

The original Watson-Simmons compromise provides that the United States "assumes no obligation to employ" military and economic forces or its resources in preserving other nations against aggression.

It provides that the United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial independence of other nations against aggression.

Rain and Snow in Central West

Flood Dangers Threatens and Railroads are Preparing for Flood Condition
(By United Press)

Chicago, March 12—Flood dangers loomed up in the middle west today, and a sudden change in weather conditions followed the tornado near Omaha and in southwestern Missouri yesterday. Rain which fell in Illinois, western Indiana, Missouri and southern Arkansas last night and early today, threatened floods. Railroads have prepared for threatened floods in several places in Michigan.

Rain fell all night long at Milwaukee and vicinity, and changed to a sleet and snow today. Rain fell heavily in northern Illinois during the night and turned into a blizzard this morning. All railroads report either rain or snow falling along their lines but so far have reported no danger.

Tornadoes Take Toll of Several Lives in Missouri

The Dead are Mostly School Children in the Territory Made Famous by "Shepherd of the Hills"

Springfield, Mo., March 12—Tornadoes in the last twenty-four hours have caused a toll of seven lives in southwestern Missouri. Many persons were injured. A few are missing.

The dead are mostly school children. The result at four different places is:

At Melva at least five are dead and several injured; at Nevada, one dead; Branson, one dead; at Oasis, two missing.

Rains accompanied the storm at Melva. The storm area seemed to center there and for a radius of fifteen miles on each side.

Water and wind claimed victims there. Some were school children in the families of William and Rand Fox.

They were dismissed from school and were playing on the banks of Turkey creek when engulfed suddenly by a gush of water. Ridgeway Manky was picked up and hurled about one thousand feet through the air by the tornado. When he opened his eyes he saw his brother William struggling in the flood water but was too weak to save him.

Other dead at Melva was also Mrs. Elva Howard and one small child.

Nearby at a farm at Branson, Wm. Jackson lost his life.

John Cross and his wife were blown away with their home north of Branson and no trace has been found of the man, woman or house.

Reported killed in the Nevada tornado were Rex Piersall, Harry Brewer and William Rathwell. Property damage was heavy.

Property also was damaged in these towns: Forsythe, Taneyville, Kirbyville and Mildred, all tourist camping grounds in the White River country made famous by Harold Bell Wright's story, "Shepherd of the Hills."

Rising water in Lake Taneycome threatened the power plant at Forsythe which develops electric current for many towns.

School House Collapses, Children Hurt

Senator Nelson's Son-in-Law is Arrested for Murder

Is Alleged to Have Shot and Killed a Neighbor in a Quarrel Yesterday

Alexandria, Minn., March 12—District Attorney Walter Jaques today issued a warrant charging Gustav Nelson, son-in-law of United States Senator Knute Nelson, with manslaughter in the first degree.

Nelson is alleged to have shot and killed Joseph Middleton in a quarrel yesterday. Sheriff T. J. Dickerson was expected to rearrest Nelson this afternoon. Charges of murder in the second degree placed against Nelson yesterday were dismissed by Justice of the Peace Wright last night. Afterward a crowd of forty people demanded Nelson's incarceration and he was taken to the county jail until Mayor Leach persuaded the crowd to disperse. The trouble, Jaques said, grew out of a quarrel between Nelson and Jacobson who rents Senator Nelson's farm near here. Gustav Nelson was recently fined $50.00 on the charge of assault and battery brought by Jacobson, and as a result Jacobson arranged to move from the farm. Middleton was helping him move when he was approached by Nelson, it was said. The bullet which killed Middleton came from a gun owned by Nelson, Jaques declared. Nelson has been married only three months.

Navy Department Victim of German Propaganda

Said Admiral Sims, Which Led Them Into a Misconception of the Problem of Defending American Interests

RAYMOND CLAPPER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 12—Charges that the navy department was a victim of German propaganda were made by Admiral Wm. Sims before a senate naval sub-committee today. This propaganda led them into a misconception of the problem of defending American interests during the war and prevented full cooperation with the allies, Sims told the committee which is investigating the navy's part in the war.

He said reluctance of the navy department to cooperate with him drove him to "desperation."

"Hundreds of thousands of tons of allied shipping were sunk because the navy department was for the plan of operating ships individually under armed guards, instead of in the convoys as desired by the allies," Sims said.

He also asserted he made unsuccessful efforts to set up at London a complete central control of all allied ships, naval and merchant, but that this was blocked at Washington.

Sims read many cables and letters that indicated the difficulty he met in obtaining adoption of his recommendations by the navy department.

Finally accepting the convoy principle the navy department then found itself in a conflict with London and Sims over details in carrying it out, Sims' testimony showed.

Vocational Board Disastrous Failure

Charges a Reporter for the New York Evening Post, Who Has Investigated Matter

(By United Press)

Washington, March 12—Charges that the federal board for vocational education had made a disastrous failure of its rehabilitation of wounded service men, were filed with the house educational committee today by Harold Littledale, a reporter who has made investigations for the New York Evening Post.

In his statement Littledale claimed that out of a total of 209,000 men who registered with the board of whom it is believed 110,000 are eligible for training, only 24,000 have been placed in training schools after nineteen months of work by the board. Only 217 men have been trained and placed in employment, he charged.

Littledale's figures were denied by C. F. MacIntosh, representing the board, who claimed that 55,000 wounded and crippled soldiers and sailors are in training.

Greeks Authorized to Attack Turks in Asia Minor

Can Go as Far as They Like, But Must Return to Present Positions
When Turks are Defeated

ED L. KEEN.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, March 12—The peace conference has decided to permit the Greeks to attack the Turks in Anatolia, and take whatever measures are necessary to expel them from that region, it was learned semi-officially today.

This permission was given on condition that after the campaign has been successful, the Greeks will return to the position occupied before the fighting began. It was said to have specified that the Greeks may pursue the Turks as far as they deem necessary. The Italian representatives was the last to withdraw their objection to the plan.

The Greeks in the Anatolia region are said to number 90,000 and to have 200 field pieces. The Turks under
M. Kemal, number 40,000.

GOWN OF DIGNITY AND STYLE

Lady Duff Gordon furnished a symphony of richness, dignity and style in this smart frock of sand and brown hue for street or afternoon wear. The flashings and lacing furnish the color that relieves and sets off the frock and the same idea is carried out in the dainty belt.

GETTING READY FOR SUMMER

Heavy Linen, Gingham, Pongee and Taffeta Are Favorite Fabrics for Little Girls.

Among the warm weather fabrics that will be favored for the children's wardrobe may be mentioned heavy linen, gingham, especially striped and Scotch plaid weaves, natural colored pongee and taffeta. Taffeta, of course, is designed for frocks of the "dressy" type, but the other materials are all washable and, therefore, in the utility or service class. For very early spring serge will play its part. Some smart little models are shown equipped with detachable guimpes of white plique.

Colored organdie is a perfectly good selection for a party frock for a little girl, regardless of season. Hand embroidery is a dainty trimming touch. Another smart touch applied to cotton fabric frocks for children is scalloped ruffles piped in self-fabric in contrasting color.

Sashes are approved by Dame Fashion for members of the younger set next season and this, of course, means that wide, gay ribbons will have a big sale.

Hair and sash ribbons to match make an ideal birthday gift.

KERCHIEF ADDS TO COSTUME

Accessory Formerly Kept in Hiding Now Must Be in Evidence to Display Good Taste.

Once a pocket handkerchief was supposed to be an inconspicuous article. Its very name implied that. When pockets disappeared it was hidden under the edge of the blouse—that was in the eighties. When blouses went out, handkerchiefs were tucked into sleeves. Later they hid themselves in handbags. Now, however, they are supposed to show and indeed no one can miss them, for their lively color makes a spot of brightness in the costume. Four gay modern kerchiefs were noted recently. One has a jacquard pattern in blue and black on a gray-blue ground. One has a Persian design printed on a reddish tan background. And two have conventional flower printings on a ground of pastel color. These lively handkerchiefs are to be used with the tailored utility suit or the sport suit. When one is formally dressed for afternoon or evening, the correct monochlor is spotlessly white, of exquisitely fine linen and may be embroidered delicately in one corner with very small initial.

Suffrage Ratification Sure This Month

(By United Press)

Washington, March 12—Speaking publicly suffrage leaders today reiterated that the federal constitutional amendment granting women the right to vote, is practically certain and will be ratified this month.

Speaking privately, these same leaders who are watching every move in the campaign for the amendment, admitted today that final ratification may be several months away and that all women may not vote in the fall election.

Girl Suicides

(By United Press)

Chicago, March 12—Grief over the death of her father, and the mysterious disappearance of her sister, was believed to have caused Dora Daniels, age 21, to end her life by drinking nicotine.

Her older sister disappeared three weeks ago and her father, A. R. Daniels, died a week later. The girl's body was found in the Daniels home yesterday.

Artificial Tree for Birds.

Dr. H. B. Warren is having a concrete tree built on his lawn at West Chester, Pa., to provide homes for birds. The tree is upon a wire frame 15 feet high. Holes of different sizes will lure the birds to meet and rest. At the base of the tree will be a large concrete bath to provide the guests with running water at all times. Imitation limbs on the "tree" will give perching accommodations. But the question is, will the birds be fooled by this elaborately counterfeited tree? We have seen some most elaborate and expensive bird houses empty year after year.

"Hello" Old Wolf Call.

The old wolf hunter's call was used in France first and afterward in England, but there are no wolves in England now and the bugle call has been forgotten in both countries, therefore we "paint it green and call it our own." French was spoken in English court circles, so the titled wolf hunters used the French cry of "bah le loup" or "a lou loup" (loup being pronounced too), the cry being "a la loup," the English put on the H and made it halloo, and we made it hell-o, which is an American expression, as all the telephone girls know.—Boys' Life.

WALKER WHITESIDE

The best dramatic production in years is coming to the New Park theatre on Saturday evening, March 13. We refer to Walker Whiteside in "The Master of Ballantrae."

It is incumbent on Brainerd people and those of surrounding communities to see that a full house greets the distinguished actor and his company. When Manager F. S. Workman contracts to give to Brainerd the best in the dramatic world, the cooperation of the people who desire the best should be accorded in fullest measure.

As the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press remarks editorially in reviewing the dramatic situation and commenting on Whiteside's engagement in St. Cloud, "the way to get first class productions is to patronize them."

HOME INDUSTRIES

"Brainerd will never gain much of a reputation for welcoming new industries if it does not support the ones it has," said a well known Brainerd citizen vitally interested in this town's welfare.

"Take the case of the flour mill on Front street. There's some $10,000 worth of machinery standing idle, all because the product of the mill could not be marketed in Brainerd. A slogan for the Chamber of Commerce and every other organization in Brainerd is to boost home industry all you can. When we do that we will attract other lines of manufacturing to this town."

INCOME TAX LAW

The more people study the national income tax laws, the better satisfied they are with the plan. With no income tax at present, the whole na-

So well is the income tax working that many see the day not far distant, when Minnesota like Wisconsin, will have a state income tax law in lieu of a lot of present unjust ways of taxing a man.

Vast Orgy Spending Laid to Democrats

Period Since Armistice More Expensive Than all of 19 War Months

(By Charles S. Mitchell in the Duluth News Tribune)

Washington, March 10—Sixteen months after the armistice the United States government was spending money at the rate of $7,000,000,000 a year. In the 19 months after fighting stopped, we spent more than during the 19 months of actual warfare. At the peak load this government had on its payrolls outside those in the army and navy establishments over 750,000 persons, that is more than we had men at any time on the fighting front. It is more than the total that got into the combat lines.

Never Saw Action

These are "some figures" but they are facts. We actually spent $1,951,000,000 for airplanes and never got a fighting plane of American make in action in France and but very few of the observation type. We spent proportionate sums for ordinance and got none in action. We had no American tanks and no American shells. Where did the money go that is represented in the $1,951,756,000 spent in the 19 months of our part of the war, this is exclusive of our foreign loans?

The expenditures for this year ending June 30 next will be over $7,300,000,000. The cost for the 19 months after the war are $15,474,984,000—compare that with the amount for the war period and do a little thinking. The average annual expenditure for the war of 1812 with post war cost—was $30,164,000. For the civil war period $683,004,000; enough to last less than three weeks of this war. The cost of the reconstruction civil war period was $379,187,000 a year; enough to have lasted about a week of this past year period. The cost of the Spanish war year would have lasted about 10 days of the past three year expenditures.

Debt of Three Billions

Do you know what was done with the money you paid for Liberty bonds and war stamps? We do not, but we do know that there is today a floating debt of over $3,000,000,000 and an unadjusted war claims of around $2,500,000,000. Your bonds are good. The interest will always be paid. Any bank will take the coupons at their face value and the bonds in five years will be worth more than par.

But there was one government employee for every 6½ men in the army and navy and we have spent more in less than two years of war and she lost nearly as many men as we had enrolled.

There never was another such orgy of spending in the world's history. It was not spending it was wasting, wasting because of a refusal, a stubborn, bull-headed refusal, to use business methods to permit any business system or any system of any kind in the conduct of the business side of the war.

Unprepared for Peace

More than that we came to peace just as unprepared as we were for war. Up to this day the administration has not presented, nor is there any evidence that it has even thought of any definite policy of retrenchment. Each department is trying, not to retrench, but to avoid retrenching. It is asking for more money, not less. None has presented a plan looking to less expenditure on any fixed policy of economy. Yet it will take a billion dollars a year from the industry and savings just to pay interest on the public debt.

There is just one man responsible for this. For there is just one man who could have prevented it. He refused every plea for business management and organization. He was begged and implored by his own party leaders to permit the organization of a war council such as Great Britain and France had to manage the business end of the war. He refused. He would not part with an item of his authority or power.

We said at the time that if he insisted upon having all the responsibility, vastly more than any one man who ever lived could adequately carry, he must with it, take all the responsibility for the consequences. That the man is Woodrow Wilson and has not changed; he has learned nothing. Have the people learned anything?

AMUSEMENTS

At the New Park Tonight

It is the rude West of the gold rush days of '49 that David Wark Griffith has portrayed on the screen in "Scarlet Days," his new production, at the New Park theatre. He has chosen an old mining town in California as his locale and against this historical background woven a story of love and violence in his usual dashing style. The central figure is a romantic Mexican bandit named Alvarez, a sort of Robin Hood of the San Joaquin Valley, who is a terror to the sheriffs and stage coach drivers, but mild mannered to the poor and innocent. The role is played by Richard Barthelmess with the same sympathetic understanding which he showed in his portrayal of the tender-hearted Chinaman in "Broken Blossoms."

Scarcely less interesting than the chivalrous Alvarez is Rosy Nell, the "scarlet woman" of the mining town's dance hall, whose character Mr. Griffith has redeemed by picturing her the devoted mother of a beautiful and innocent girl, whom she is having educated in a fashionable seminary in the East, innocent of the shameful life her mother leads.

It is a Bret Harte story of violence and thrills that Mr. Griffith has pictured against this interesting background.

"Scarlet Days" is a chance to forget most completely strikes the H. C. of L. and other modern annoyances and transfer yourself easily into the red-blooded California of '49. It is a Paramount-Artcraft picture and well worth seeing.

Walker Whiteside

None of our American actors has done more for the stage than Walker Whiteside. While some of his plays have scored more heavily than others, his ideal have always been high, and at the same time he invariably offered the play going public a combination of art and entertainment—a rare combination indeed. Mr. Whiteside has been booked by Manager Workman for one appearance in Brainerd, and on the night of Saturday, March 13th, this distinguished star will appear at the New Park Theatre in Robert Louis Stevenson's thrilling comedy drama, "The Master of Ballantrae."

Mr. Whiteside is just returning from an extended tour of the Pacific coast, and is headed East where he will play a number of important engagements before the season closes. From Brainerd he will visit St. Paul and Minneapolis, after which Kansas City, St. Louis and other middle West cities will be included in his itinerary.

"The Master of Ballantrae" is one of the best known and most widely read of Robert Louis Stevenson's numerous novels. The dominant figure is James Durie, son of Lord Durie, owner of the great landed estates of Durisdeer and Ballantrae in Scotland. James Durie, being the heir, is known as "The Master," in accordance with the law of entail of 1756. This arrogant rogue fares afield in search of adventure, and for ten years has been mourned as dead by his doting father. His return to Castle Durisdeer is the beginning of turmoil and strife, for James demands money with which to pursue his fast life abroad. The enemy between the brothers finally ends with a tremendous scene in which the long smoldering hatred between them brings about a smashing climax—the end of the play. Not since the days of "The Typhoon" has Whiteside had so satisfying a vehicle as "The Master of Ballantrae."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BENEFIT FOR MUNICIPAL BAND

Pictures "Wolves of the Night" and Concert at New Park Theatre March 25 and 26

WM. F. PALMER, BAND LEADER

Band Makes Exceptional Record of Having Two Rehearsals a Week Well Attended

William Farnum will appear in "Wolves of the Night" as the special attraction secured by the Brainerd Municipal Band on the occasion of their benefit performance March 25 and 26. With the pictures will be coupled a concert of six numbers.

This will be the first public appearance of the new band director, William F. Palmer. The men have faithfully followed a program of two rehearsals a week for the past months and the attendance has been good.

Mr. Palmer has had much experience in handling military bands, his last engagement being director of the Dunwoody Naval Band. If there is one thing that Mr. Palmer prides himself about, it is giving the musicians under his direction snap, precision and the punch that expresses the composer's ideas. He makes a band play the kind of music that just won't keep your feet still.

Brainerd since the early days has always backed a band, but never since the memory of the Marine band and other organizations has there been as much enthusiasm shown and steady practice carried on. That is revealed in the statement above of two rehearsals a week, when for years one rehearsal a week was considered the highest possible limit.

The band is largely shop men and they give unstintingly of their time for practice and playing. Tickets are now being sold for the benefit performance and should meet with a ready sale.

BRAINERD'S WATER

New Water Supply System of the City Given a Mention in the Minnesota Health Journal

"The work on the construction of the new water supply system for the city of Brainerd is progressing satisfactorily. These improvements include the abandonment of the Mississippi river as a source of water supply, the construction of new wells, storage reservoirs, and many sections of new water mains. The new elevated tower and tank is to be of reinforced concrete. The design is a great improvement from an artistic standpoint when compared with tanks of steel and wood. The cost of up-keep should be much less for the reason that painting will not be required. Brainerd has from time to time suffered from typhoid fever, which was largely attributed to the use of water from the Mississippi river."

BOWLING TOURNAMENT PLANNED IN THE CITY

Contest for Brainerd Bowlers in Singles and Doubles Opening Wednesday Night, March 17

TO BE STAGED AT COOK ALLEYS

All Bowlers Invited to Enter and Requested to Get Entries in This Week if Possible

Brainerd is growing tired of staying in the back ground and allowing other cities to put on all the bowling tournaments, so the result is, a real tournament at home. To introduce tournament conditions to local bowlers, only singles and doubles will be shot in this tournament. The entries are open until Tuesday noon, and this will enable the committee to arrange the schedule Tuesday afternoon.

All bowlers are invited to enter and are requested to get entries in this week, if possible so as not to crowd the work on Tuesday. The entry fee is $1.00 per man for each event and all entry money will be put in the prize list. Every bowler in Brainerd should get into this tournament as the best bowlers very seldom win the money. It is usually a dark horse who gets away with the big prizes.

Get your entries in and pick your partner for the doubles now. Hand entries to Roy Zierke, Treasurer Fraternal League or to attendant at Cook's Alleys and receipt for entry money will be given at once to avoid mistakes later on.

1ST METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday, March 14, to be Reserved for its Own Members

(Contributed)

Although this is "Go to Church" month in which all persons whether members of the churches or not, are urged to attend, the First Methodist church is asking that Sunday morning, March 14, be reserved for its own members and those who regularly attend that church. For this purpose the church is issuing tickets. These will be sent to the members. Other Christian people who wish to attend this service can procure tickets at the parsonage, up to Saturday night. Strangers and visitors in the city who are Christians will be provided with tickets on application.

There will be Holy Communion and sermon at his service which will begin at 10:30 A. M. The doors will be closed at 10:45 and none will be admitted after that hour.

All persons not able to comply with the above conditions are requested to worship at some other church for this one service. All other services of the day will be open to the general public.

Good for the Whole Family

"Grammy" Chamberlain "A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general. It must be a cough remedy that can be relied upon for all the different coughs that are so prevalent. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The powerful convulsive cough of a large man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a large man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is the product of much thought and study to produce an ideal cough remedy. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the most delicate tissues of the throat. It acts as easily and safely on the young as on the old, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, whooping cough and bronchitis.

Yours for Health — Grammy Chamberlain

Vera Cruz. Vera Cruz has the unique record of having been twice captured by American forces, once in 1846 when we were at war with Mexico, and again in 1917, when we were not at war with Mexico. However, all we seem to do with it after we get it is to give it back again, so its citizens probably feel little worried at the vicissitudes of war. Indeed, they have recently raised a statue in honor of the noble defenders of Vera Cruz against the gringos, which shows that they feel they are adequately protected.

Better to be On the Safe Side
Nearly everybody at some time or other suffers from backache, sore muscles, swollen joints, rheumatic pains or other symptoms of kidney and bladder ailments. These may not be serious, but it certainly pays to be on the safe side. Foley Kidney Pills strengthen and invigorate kidneys and bladder and help them to do their work. H. P. Dunn, mwf

Have Same Speech.
The old Gaelic or Celtic languages of the people of Scotland and Ireland are still spoken in place of English in the south and west of Scotland, in parts of Wales and other places, but the great majority of the people of both Scotland and Ireland speak English. They have their variations of speech due to brogue or dialect, just as different sections of England and America have, but in all essentials their language is ours.

Are You Losing "Pen"?
Do you feel tired all the time? Does your back ache? Do you feel that you are not so spry as you used to be? Foley Kidney Pills tone up and invigorate the kidneys, banish backache, rid the blood of poisons. Rev. W. F. M. Swyndole, Macon, Ga., writes: "I am ready at any time to speak a word for Foley Kidney Pills." H. P. Dunn, mwf

Beard Superstition
Alum heads esteemed to be an efficacious charm against the evil eye, were largely worn by children, and in a town of Suffolk, England, there is said to have dwelt a witch who possessed a pair of ebony beads, stated to have come from the Holy Land, and to have been sanctified at Rome. To her there repaired many a mother when her child was sick, in the hope that through the prayers of the ebony beads would be conjured away the evil spirit.

You Can't Be Too Careful
Elsie O'Brien, R. F. D. 7, Vincennes, Ind., writes: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar broke up my cold right away." It relieves coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough; clears the passages, soothes irritated membranes and stops tickling in the throat. Foley's is the original and genuine Honey and Tar. H. P. Dunn.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

With fingers! Corns and calluses lift off. No pain!

Maggie! Just drop a little Freezone on that tough corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift the corn off with the fingers. Truly! No blubbing!

Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the discovery of a noted Cincinnati genius.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 20c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

WASHINGTON IS MADE OVER CITY

CENSUS REPORT OF 407,000 POPULATION IS REMINDER—THE WAR'S EFFECT.

NEW VIGOR IN THE CAPITAL

Citizens Are Doing Things in a Bigger Way Than Ever Before—Many of Them Think They Should Be Encouraged.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—The announcement by the bureau of the census the other day that Washington now has a population of 407,000 was a reminder that the world war made over the capital of the United States. With the declaration of war against Germany in April, 1917, the sleepy, slow-going, self-satisfied city by the Potomac began to take on new life, and that process continued until the old Washington disappeared, never to return. The activities of war put a vigor into the capital that it had never known before. Outsiders brought in the new spirit; the native inhabitants caught it and have retained it.

The capital is not an industrial city, and unless there should be a revolution in sentiment among its people it never will be. To make it the ideal capital of the world is the ambition of its inhabitants. With the passing of war activities it is doing things in a bigger way than ever before. Its commercial bodies, the merchants' and manufacturers' associations, the board of trade and the chamber of commerce are developing into live bodies. Recently a city club with some 2,000 business and professional men as members has been organized, and promises to be another important factor in the new development.

Seek the Right to Vote.

Most of the local people still believe some obstacles to genuine progress exist. The denial of the ballot is regarded as one of the obstacles. Just now a very vigorous campaign in favor of legislation by congress that will confer the right of suffrage is being waged. According to the campaigners, it is un-American that the men and women of legal age in the capital city of the land should be denied the right, or privilege to vote in that city. Congress listens attentively, but does not do anything on the subject. It should be said that not all the inhabitants of the District of Columbia join in the clamor for the vote; some of them are disposed to believe that, after all, the existing system of government through a board of commissioners appointed by the president is sound and satisfactory. But the agitation for the ballot—the right to choose the governing officers by direct vote—will go on, and it will be no surprise if congress yields one of these times.

The question of how the expense of running the District of Columbia government should be borne is a live one. It has been argued in many congresses and apparently is as far from settlement as ever. At present, and for a period running back many years, what is known as a "half and half" plan has been in force. Under this plan the federal government agrees to and does appropriate one dollar for the running expenses of the district for every dollar raised in the district by taxation. The house of representatives for several years has been voting to kill this arrangement, but the senate has thus far supported it successfully.

Theory of "Half and Half" Plan.
The arrangement was entered into on the theory that the capital city belonged to the whole country; that it was to be maintained as their pride and joy, and that, such being the fact, one-half of the expense of the capital city government should be paid from the general fund of the treasury department, a fund to which the whole country contributed. Another argument in favor of the plan is that the federal government actually owns most of the city parks, as well as the great public buildings. Of course if the existing plan is changed some new arrangement will have to be made under which the federal government would pay its proportionate share of the expense of local government.

The truth is that it is Washington's national character, and not its local character, that makes it what it is. Most persons who have been around here for a long time and have been in touch with things will tell you that frequently congress has failed to take the national view in dealing with the capital city; too often the inclination has been to look on Washington as a purely local city, something apart from the federal government. On the other hand the disposition among the legislators generally throughout a long period of years has been to take the big broad view, the view that this city belonged to the people of the United States and should be made a city of which they could always speak with pride. It is this spirit that has made Washington one of the beautiful cities of the world, and that has planned great things for it in the future.

Theory Upset.

"De Squalle has disproved one pet theory, anyway."

"What one, and how?"
"It is commonly believed that lemons are good for the voice, and his doesn't improve in the least, in spite of the fact that the critics hand him a lemon everywhere he goes."

You Get What You Give

WHEN a business fails the financial statement reflects the conditions at that time, but the real reason for failure is seldom shown. In many cases the true reason is that the business performed no service which was necessary or useful to society generally.

Every individual must give a useful service if he is to prosper, for society will refuse to maintain him if he fails to be useful to society.

When we find a business which has been notably prosperous over a long period of years, we may be sure that it has won its position by performing a service useful and necessary.

That, in a word, explains the continued, ever-increasing success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana.)

This Company is included in the list of big business because the ideals of service which it holds and maintains are big.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big because it recognizes the necessity of developing its sphere of usefulness to the highest degree and of maintaining this high standard in spite of every obstacle.

The success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) proves that it is performing a useful service and that every link in its chain of achievements is delivering an added benefit to civilization and to you.

Service is the first consideration of this organization, for it knows that by increasing its service to the public its earnings will automatically grow, and all will profit by its activities.
